

Draw yourself behind the steering wheel of the snowplow and color the picture!

Think it doesn't snow in Arizona? Think again!

When driving up north in the snowy part of Arizona, you and your vehicle must be prepared driving in wintry conditions, including snow, ice and freezing temperatures. Here are some supplies you should have with you in your car.

- Fully charged cell phone
- Flashlight with extra batteries
- Drinking water
- Winter coats, warm blankets or both
- First-aid kit and any prescribed medication
- Ice scraper and small shovel
- Bag of sand (or cat litter) for wheel traction
- Travel tool kit and battery cables

- Safety flares
- Road map
- Prepackaged fruits, nuts and nutrition bars

Share these snowplow facts with your parents and have them check out ADOT's Know Snow website for driving in snow tips! Visit azdot.gov/KnowSnow Visit azdot.gov/ADOTKids for more fun!